WHY SHOULD YOU JOIN THE CSTM?

The Canadian Society for Transfusion Medicine membership consists of individuals, students and institutions which are primarily hospitals or health care organizations. This is a growing society of technologists, researchers, educators, physicians, nurses, managers, students, administrators and colleagues in industry who share an interest in a wide variety of areas in transfusion medicine. The main purpose of this Society is to promote the highest quality transfusion practices in Canada.

The CSTM offers members:

- ◆ Opportunities to interact with, and exposure to, a network of transfusion medicine experts from hospitals, CBS, Héma-Québec, research & development, and others involved in transfusion medicine in Canada
- ◆ Online subscription to the quarterly CSTM Bulletin, which contains articles of interest and practical relevance to transfusion
- ◆ Access and input into the development of standards for transfusion medicine in Canada
- ◆ Opportunities to express your views and impact on the changing face of transfusion medicine in Canada
- ◆ Reduced registration fees at the annual CSTM/CBS/Héma-Québec meeting
- ◆ Reduced subscription rates to Transfusion Medicine, (the Journal of the British Blood Transfusion Society)
- ◆ A CSTM website with updated information on the society, information of upcoming meetings of interest, and links to other relevant sites of interest
- ◆ Opportunities for participation on CSTM standing committees
- ◆ Individual, student and institutional memberships available

CSTM's Website

A key part of CSTM's online strategy is to develop a presence on the web that will connect transfusion professionals from across Canada and around the world and provide them with a portal to current, high quality information and education.

The website allows CSTM to:

- ◆ Offer members timely access to important announcements and issues
- ◆ Develop an archive of quality transfusion related articles and news stories
- ◆ Identify continuing education opportunities
- ◆ Publicize employment opportunities and contacts for diagnostic supplies and services
- ◆ Provide members easy access to CSTM Standards, Bulletin, and other publications

The CSTM is an inter-professional organization that promotes excellence in Transfusion Medicine for Canadians .

CSTM: Quarterly Bulletins

The CSTM publishes the Bulletin online four times a year. This continues to be the principle mode of communication for Transfusion Professionals in Canada. Information concerning the Board membership, key educational and scientific meetings summaries, transfusion practices and guidelines, frequently asked questions and reports from the annual meeting are just a few of the items covered in the Bulletin.

Note: Membership applications can be found on the website or in the online quarterly bulletin or on the reverse of this brochure.
